TURNING CONVERSATIONS INTO ACTION: Work Culture & Employee Experience

Hey ,

I am SO excited to be able to announce the launch of my new podcast!

You may remember the vote for a name? Well, there was a clear winner... BEYOND THE WATER COOLER. Thank you Patrick McGuirk for the inspiration. I am incredibly grateful to Aurél Langlais for the fantastic photography, to Jon Pyke for his patience getting the artwork right, and to Natali Williams Exec Support Solutions for helping me on my journey.

I'm feeling privileged to be having great conversations with awesome people who know a thing or two about creating engaging work experiences. Why not check them out for yourself?

It Started in the Kitchen - with Dave Greenaway. In this inaugural episode, we kickstart the conversation about employee experience and my interest and role within it. The water cooler became my kettle and my comrade in conversation was Dave of Dave Greenaway Coaching.

Employee Experience - just another buzz word? - with Andrew Whiteaker of Boyes Turner. We explore what we really mean by employee experience, how we know if companies are getting it right, how we make it tangible and the difference getting it right makes for companies.

Are leaders all they're cracked up to be? - with Stuart Neilson, MD of mark'envoy UK & Nordics. With extensive knowledge, experience and skills around authentic leadership and organisational culture, and his work with the FutureWork Forum, Stuart and I had a lot to talk about!

If you enjoy it and feel the conversations are helpful, please do give it a 5* review as this will help others find the podcast. And do subscribe if you would like to know when future episodes go live.

Please tell me WHO you would like to hear from as a future guest, and WHAT you would like discussed in future conversations. What are your burning questions and current challenges? Why not drop me a note with your suggestions here?

Here are links to some platforms where you can find my podcast. If your favourite isn't here, type 'Beyond the Water Cooler' in the search bar of your podcast provider and it should just pop up. If it doesn't... let me know!

I'm new to this so any other feedback would be much appreciated. I would like my listeners to help shape what I'm producing so that I know it's hitting the spot.
